From the Principal's desk

Giinagay; welcome to week 11. The end of term has come around very fast. I have a few messages to finish the term.

School Reports and Attendance: Term 1 school reports will be sent home this Thursday. Accompanying the report, you will find a letter and attendance report for your child covering term 1, 2022. I encourage all parents to read this report and contact me early in term 2, if you would like to discuss strategies for attendance. Our AAA awards will also go home this week for students with attendance between 95-100%. This focus on attendance is in-line with the Premier's targets to improve attendance for all students across NSW.

New Crossing: With the weather and all processes going well, it is envisaged that school crossing will begin construction over the school break. We look forward to seeing this completed to assist us with keeping our students, staff, and parents safe when crossing the road outside the school. I continue to encourage everyone to adhere to the road rules and stop at the correct lines if there are children or adults waiting to cross.

Late Arrivals: Now that parents can enter the school grounds, it is imperative that parents come to the office to sign their child into school and provide a reason. This also applies to collecting children early. I encourage parents to please attempt to make appointments outside school hours as partial absentee has just as big an impact as full day absentee.

Great Debate: This is postponed until early next term. New arrangements will be sent out early in the term.

Dental notes: If you still have your child's Dental Forms at home and wish for your child to utilise this free service, please return forms this week in their envelope.

PB Assembly and Easter Hat Parade: We have our fingers crossed that we do not receive any more rain this week so that our planned PB Assembly can go ahead at 9:40am on Friday followed by our Easter Hat Parade at approximately 10:45am. Parents are invited, and we look forward to sharing this morning with you. Please QR code on arrival and continue to socially distance while in the school.

ANZAC Day March: Thank you to parents who have returned notes indicating that your child will attend the Coffs Harbour ANZAC Day march on the Monday before school starts in term 2.

OVLC Cross Country: The students return to school on the Wednesday where all students from 3-6 and any 8 year old's in Year 2 will be attending the OVLC Cross Country. Please ensure notes are returned to school by Friday. Don't forget to train over the holidays.

School Athletics Carnival: The Friday of week 1 is our NGPS Athletics Carnival. Parents are invited and we encourage you to come along if you can. The P&C will need helpers on the day for the BBQ and baked goods will be appreciated.

I would like to wish everyone a happy Easter and hope that everyone is able to spend some time with family and friends. Take care, rest up and we look forward to seeing everyone for Term 2.

Have a great week,

Yaari Yaarrang.

Congratulations to year 1, they were very excited to be receiving Bear for the last week of term. Please look in your child's report folder for the Term 1 attendance letter and report that every child in the school is receiving.

What's happening in Year 4/5

Year 4/5 have had many projects on the go which are all wrapping up with the end of term fast approaching. They have been busy developing their genius hour focus question, experimented with materials changing state for Science, finalising their picture book collating all of our writing skills and preparing themselves for the upcoming sporting events (not to mention our secret assembly performance item, shhh). They have participated in whole school programs such as Harmony Day, Bullying No Way day, and a STEM maths challenge day. We have worked very hard all term in all subject areas and have definitely earned our break next week.

Talking to your child about traumatic news

Given the current state of the world over the last few years, we have been witnesses to a daily barrage of news from around the world and closer to home, some of it being quite traumatic.

Between the constant stream of information through news, social media, other kids and from adult conversations, your children are probably more aware of what's going on than you realise.

During times like this, your child might have many questions, feel confused and scared. As their dad and father figure, it's your role to try your best to provide clarification, context, and safety.

Top tips to talk about it with your child

- 1. Be aware of their viewpoint and provide context. Young children can have difficulty with time, space, and perspective. They may see something on the news and think it is happening right outside their home, right now.
- 2. Check in on what they have seen or heard. Ask them what they are hearing or seeing? How are you feeling about this? Talk about their concerns.
- 3. Reassure them they are safe. The information you give them should focus on letting them know they are safe. "We are/will be safe because ...". If they still have concerns, let them know you are there to talk about it, at any time.
